This 3.8-mile family-friendly trail provides great views of the entire Spokane valley from the top of Eagle Peak. Visitors enjoy the best parts of the Pond Loop Trail, Nimbus Knob Loop Trail, and Eagle Peak Loop before returning to the trailhead through the Enchanted Ravine as part of the Pinecliff Loop Trail. Potholes and granite ridges in Dishman Hills are remnants of the great Ice Age floods that shaped this unique area. There are a plethora of trail loops to enjoy, and many people hike all of them over time. Several trail junctions offer colorful trail maps that direct you back to the trailhead if you get confused.
